| 1.30 – 3.00 | A4. Mapping Law Enforcement Cross-border Collaboration & Highlighting Regional Initiatives. | B4. Activating the Evidence Base to Empower Law Enforcement Investigations of CSEA. | C4. The Algorithm is Getting Smarter – Positive and Negative Impacts of Algorithmic Recommender Tools. |
| | Discuss and advance the emerging agenda from the ACWC-convened regional dialogue in July to achieve improved cross-border collaboration on CSEA crimes. | Exploring new data and tools, including rapid advances in AI technology may be harnessed to assist law enforcement in managing and investigating CSEA cases. | Women, girls and a range of minority populations experience particular risks in online environments stretching from misogynistic, homophobic or transphobic abuse to more subtle reinforcement of problematic gender norms and stereotypes. Conversely, many young people seek out and find community and supports online they may not be able to connect with in their local communities. This session will showcase some innovative approaches at identifying risks, and accentuating positive aspects of the algorithm's impact on our lives. |
